What kind of rewards could I get for participating in The Health Hub?

There are opportunities to win rewards each month. Any activity that offers a chance to win a prize will always include Official Rules. The complete Official Contest Rules and Regulations can be found Contest Rules here.

How will I be notified if I win?

We send a winner notification email to the address we have on file for you. Every winner's notification includes an expiration date - which means that you must respond to the prize notification by the date stated in the email or you will forfeit the prize. Winners will also receive a notification email after their reward has been mailed.

Could you please explain to me how the ranking system works?

Rank is determined by a combination of several factors related to your membership tenure and active participation (e.g. posts and Likes). Your rank appears on your profile page and under your user name whenever you make a post. As you move up the ranks, your rank color will change and you'll start earning badges.

What are Likes?

Likes are a way to recognize a post that you like, in effect, giving it a "thumbs up". You may only "Like" a post once.

How do I give Likes?

You can give "Like" any post, idea, and contest entry in the community except your own. To "Like" a post and its author, click the "Like" button for that post.

How do I find out how many Likes I've given and received?

The number of Likes you've given and received (in total and by post) can be found on your profile page. To access your profile page, simply click on your login name in the upper right-hand corner of the screen.
