1) About the Community:

Ipsos has established this online “Community” in order to provide a dynamic, interactive space where members can answer questions and take part in discussion threads and, for some studies, other activities for research being carried out for a specific study. This Community will only be open for membership and available for the period of that study.

2) Community Membership:

Membership to the Community is open to all legal residents of the United States and a minimum of 18 years old or over, who is not already a member of the Community and who does not live in a household where another member of the household is already a member of the Community can apply to join. Nevertheless, we reserve the sole right to deny membership, without any requirement to justify such a rejection. In case the registration process is not successfully completed, your personal data will not be retained by us.

Membership of the panel is not open to Ipsos Group employees, members of their immediate family or employees of Ipsos clients and business partners.

3) Registration:

To apply to join the Community, you simply need to complete the online registration form, indicate your acceptance of our use of cookies and these Terms and Conditions, and then click the OK button. In consideration of your application and use of the Community, you agree that all information you provide in your application and profile is true, accurate, correct and complete. You also agree to keep your personal data up to date and accurate.

On joining, you will be asked to choose a user name that will be displayed whenever you participate in the Community. You may also upload a photograph should you wish to do so.

We may refuse to grant you, and you may not use, a screen name or email address that is already being used by someone else, that impersonates another person, that belongs to another person, that violates the intellectual property or other rights of any person, that is vulgar or otherwise offensive, or that we reject for any other reason, at our sole discretion.

4) Use of your personal data:

The information you provide to us, including all personal data, will be treated in the strictest confidence and in accordance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations, including those relating to privacy and personal data.

As part of this undertaking, we promise that:

- We will not try to sell you anything or pass your personal data to any third parties for marketing or sales purposes.
- Your individual responses to the Communities will remain confidential, and will only be used grouped with other confidential responses, unless you explicitly consent to your responses to a specific Community, together with your personal data being passed to a client.

- Refusal to answer a particular question will have no consequences with regard to your membership.
- At any time, you are entitled to request correction or deletion of the personal data you have provided.
- At any time, you have the right to request a copy of your personal data that we hold.

We will use your personal data for the purpose of granting you access to the Community, to send you invitations to take part in online surveys and to contribute to other online activities with the Community such as blogs, discussions and uploading your ideas, pictures or other content. Your personal data will also be used to send you other information about the Community and to send you any prizes, as applicable, should you win one of the prize draws or other competitions we run for members of the Community.

As this Community is being used for research purposes, in addition to your name and contact details, we may also ask you to provide other information about yourself and your household in order to understand the profile of our membership for research analysis purposes. This information is necessary so we can group and analyze survey results by social and economic group for example. Providing us with this personal data is a condition for participation in the Community as it would otherwise not be possible for us to determine whether your participation in any Community would meet such applicable criteria. You hereby consent for Ipsos to register your personal data in the Community database. We may also ask for certain information concerning other members in your household. You are responsible for obtaining consent, with regard to the information you provide for any household members.

In some instances, concerning our research, we may ask you to provide certain sensitive personal data, for example revealing your racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, trade-union membership or data concerning health or sex life. You do not have to and are never required to answer these questions. Responses to these questions will remain confidential unless you explicitly and freely consent to your responses to these questions, together with your personal data, being passed to research clients for further in-depth research analysis.

Except for contact details of a parent or guardian, we will not collect any personal data from anyone under 18 without their parent or legal guardian's consent.

The personal data you provide about yourself or other members in your household, when taking part in a Community, is transformed into anonymous data, which is used by Ipsos and its clients, except where you have provided explicit consent for us to use your personal data otherwise.

For full details of how we use your personal data, please see our privacy policy that can be found here.

5) Email Policy.

As you have voluntarily registered to be a member of the Community, and confirmed your e-mail address, phone number and postal address upon joining, you should not mark emails or other communication received from Ipsos, or the Community as spam or unsolicited communication, and you might be responsible for any resulting damage to Ipsos.

Due to your mail-box security settings, the survey invitations you receive from us might be directed to your bulk / junk mail or similar folder. To avoid this, please add the support@thehealthhubcommunity.com address to your address book.

6) Leaving the Community and cancellation of membership:

Your membership in the Community will end when the Community is closed at the end of the research study. You have the right to withdraw from the Community at any time before then, and can do so by sending an email to support@thehealthhubcommunity.com.

Ipsos also reserves the right to withdraw membership of any member's breaching these Terms and Conditions, or other rules of the Community.
